
Painter is an online service that allows users to download and use complex software such as Adobe Photoshop for free. Are you a digital artist, a designer, a researcher who specializes in data visualization, or someone who simply wants to explore the power of Photoshop without having to pay hundreds of dollars? Painter may be just what you're looking for.

Introduction to blog post about how Bitcoin works: All Bitcoin transactions are public and recorded in something called a "Blockchain". This Blockchain details every Bitcoin transaction ever process from when the Bitcoin program started back in 2008 up until now. The Bitcoin Blockchain is constantly updating with new blocks being added on top of one another every 10 minutes or so. The blocks in this Blockchain represent all Bitcoin transactions ever completed. The project is expanding, and the site has now been translated into French, Russian, Italian, Spanish, German and Dutch.
